He deliberated that nothing can replace social connection but at the same time, it is essential to be agile and accept technological change. Dr. Aquil Busrai emphasized maintaining the balance between technology and Human Connect. He explained how AI works silently and has changed lifestyles and reduced the operational costs of firms with the application of Predictive Attrition analysis. It is important to be well-versed with technological changes and learn to cope with the speed of change. Dr. Anuj Verma, Director JIMS Kalkaji shared his views that human connection cannot be replaced by any technology, but we can adapt technology for the betterment of society. Technology should be used wisely but Human Touch should not be lost.

Mr. GP RAO commenced the panel discussion with an emphasis on technological integration and human development. He emphasized the significance of AI in automating processes, analyzing vast datasets, and enabling machines to make decisions, ultimately revolutionizing various industries. Mr. Neeraj's Perspective explains how AI involves the artificial creation of intelligence within machines. He suggested that during interviews, paying attention to subtle cues like eye movements and hand gestures can provide valuable insights. These non-verbal cues can offer a deeper understanding of a candidate's suitability for a role. Saurabh Rai's insights shed light on the importance of predictive and descriptive models in the field of data analysis. He highlighted the need for accurate data parameters, such as salary and the nature of work, to ensure the correctness and reliability of these models. Saurabh emphasized that conducting numerous surveys is essential for conducting sentiment analysis effectively. This involves the aggregation of words and phrases from various sources, leading to a comprehensive understanding of sentiment. Miss Archana Bhardwaj highlights the topic of grievance handling within HR and contrasts it with certain hiring practices. She raised a significant concern about the emphasis placed on physical appearance during the hiring process. Archana pointed out that in some cases, candidates may be hired or not based on their looks rather than their qualifications, which can lead to biases in recruitment. However, she also emphasized that in the field of artificial intelligence (AI), these biases are often eliminated. The hiring process in AI relies solely on an individual's talents and qualifications relevant to the position they are applying for, ignoring irrelevant factors like appearance.

Learning outcomes

Mr. Manmohan Bhutani unequivocally asserted that Artificial Intelligence (AI) is a game changer. AI's potential is so significant that it can be considered a transformative force in today's world. Moreover, Mr. Bhutani highlighted the power of AI in identifying inflection points in advance. Predictive capability is a crucial aspect of AI, enabling businesses and organizations to anticipate critical turning points, make informed decisions, and stay ahead of the curve. Ms. Kuljeet acknowledged the game-changing potential of technology but also emphasized that human existence remains at the core of innovation, underscoring the need to strike a balance between technological advancements and human-centric values. She explained how Indian Oil Corporation has used sentiment analysis at its retail outlets to ensure customers' happiness. These valuable tips offer diverse perspectives on the integration of AI, ethics, technology, and human elements in our rapidly changing world.

- The primary objective is to empower individuals within the college community to take immediate and appropriate action during critical situations, potentially saving lives and promoting a safer environment for everyone.

Report:

The student volunteers from Prayaas, the NSS and rotaract club of JIMS Kalkaji conducted a seminar on first aid in collaboration with Emmanuel Hospital Association, New Delhi. The seminar emphasized the immediate steps to take when encountering someone experiencing a heart attack, including recognizing the signs of cardiac distress, assessing the person's condition, and swiftly initiating CPR if needed. Students also gained knowledge on administering first aid, including how to stop bleeding effectively. The seminar covered the steps to assess and manage bleeding wounds, emphasizing the importance of applying pressure to the wound using a clean cloth or bandage to control bleeding.

Learning Outcome:

The learning outcome of the first aid seminar was twofold: students acquired essential skills in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), enabling them to respond promptly and effectively to heart attack emergencies, while also gaining proficiency in administering first aid to control bleeding and stabilize injured individuals.

The image shows a seminar poster on the left and a CPR demonstration on the right. The poster is for a 'First Aid Seminar' organized by PRAYAAS, The NSS & Rotaract Club of IMS Kalkaji.
