Report on "AD MAD 3.0" The Marketing Society – MARKRAZE

Event Category	: Marketing and Creative Competition
Topic	: AD MAD 3.0
Date	: 17 April 2026
Venue	: Auditorium
Faculty Coordinator	: Dr. Jasleen Rana, Ms. Sakshi Singh

EVENT SUMMARY:

Building on the success of its previous edition, Ad Mad 3.0 was organized by MARKRAZE as an engaging and innovative marketing competition. The event aimed to enhance participants' creativity and practical understanding of advertising techniques.

The competition provided students with a platform to conceptualize and present advertisements for real or fictional products through live performances, video ads, and presentations. Compared to the earlier edition, this version brought in more creativity, better execution, and a higher level of competition.

Participants stepped into the role of advertisers and marketers, applying concepts such as branding, positioning, and unique selling propositions (USP) in a practical and interactive environment. The event successfully blended creativity with marketing knowledge, making it both educational and entertaining.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Creative Advertising Presentations:

Participants showcased ads through skits, videos, and presentations, reflecting originality and innovation.

- Strategic Marketing Approach:

Focus on branding, storytelling, and effective communication of product value.

- High Level of Competition:

Increased participation and more refined ideas compared to previous editions.

- Skill Development:

Enhanced creativity, communication, teamwork, and presentation skills.

- Interactive & Engaging Format:

Performances kept the audience actively involved and entertained.

On January 29, 2026, a thought-provoking Group Discussion on “Work From Office: Strengthening Workplace Culture or Managerial Control?” was successfully conducted at JIMS Kalkaji. The event was organized by ACE – The Placement Cell under the aegis of IQAC. The objective of the group discussion was to enhance students’ analytical abilities, communication skills, and understanding of contemporary workplace dynamics in the evolving corporate environment.

The discussion focused on the relevance of work-from-office policies in the post-pandemic era and encouraged students to critically evaluate whether such practices promote organizational culture or serve as tools for managerial control. Students actively shared diverse viewpoints, supported by examples and logical reasoning.

Speakers and Their Contributions:

- The group discussion was moderated by representatives of ACE – The Placement Cell, who ensured structured participation and smooth flow of the discussion.
- Students were divided into groups and given opportunities to present arguments both in favor of and against the topic.
- The moderators encouraged equal participation, critical questioning, and respectful exchange of ideas, making the session highly interactive and insightful.

EVENT SUMMARY:

Building on the success of the previous edition, "Sell It Right 2.0" was organized by MARKRAZE as an advanced and more engaging version of the sales and marketing competition. The event aimed to further enhance participants' practical understanding of real-world selling and negotiation techniques.

The competition provided students with a platform to demonstrate their sales acumen by pitching products creatively and convincingly. Compared to the previous edition, this version introduced more dynamic challenges and a higher level of competition, encouraging participants to think critically, innovate, and adapt their strategies in real-time.

Participants stepped into the role of sales professionals, applying marketing concepts such as consumer behavior, pricing strategies, and branding in a practical setting. The event successfully combined learning with competition, making it both educational and engaging.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Advanced Sales Simulation:
Participants engaged in realistic selling scenarios, enhancing their practical exposure.
- Strategic Marketing Approach:
Greater focus on branding, pricing strategies, and unique selling propositions (USP).
- Enhanced Competition Level:
More challenging tasks compared to the previous edition to test adaptability and creativity.
- Skill Development:
Strengthened communication, persuasion, and negotiation skills.
- Interactive & Engaging Format:
Activities and challenges designed to make learning fun and impactful.
- Networking & Collaboration:
Encouraged interaction among students, fostering teamwork and connections

Event Category – Calendar Activity

Date- 18th November, 2025

Topic- AI Based Business Pitch Competition

Venue - Conference Room, JIMS KALKAJI

Faculty Coordinators- Dr. Jasleen Rana, Dr. Ekta Kasana, Ms. Sakshi Singh and Ms. Chanika Gupta

Number of Beneficiaries – 40 students

Learning objectives –

- To develop real-time entrepreneurial thinking by challenging students to design business ideas using products allotted on the spot, encouraging adaptability and quick decision-making.
- To promote the practical application of Artificial Intelligence in business, enabling students to understand how AI can be integrated into products, services, and operational strategies.
- To enhance problem-solving and analytical skills by requiring participants to identify market gaps, customer needs, and feasible AI-driven solutions within a limited timeframe.
- To strengthen business model development skills by guiding students to create value propositions, revenue models, and competitive strategies supported by AI tools and concepts.

Report:

The Entrepreneurship Cell of JIMS, Kalkaji in collaboration with Markraze, organized Innoverse 2025 on November 18th, 2025. The event was coordinated under the guidance of Dr. Ekta Kasana, Ms. Sakshi Singh Dr. Jasleen Rana and Ms. Chanika Gupta (Faculty Coordinators), along with Saloni Anand (E- Cell President), Pawan Singh (Innovation Secretary) and Dhriti Bhardwaj (E- Cell Vice President), Asmanjot Singh (Markraze President) and Ridhi Dagar (Markraze Vice President). The competition was uniquely designed to test participants' creativity, adaptability, and business acumen by assigning products on the spot, requiring students to develop AI-driven business ideas and pitches within a limited timeframe. The event witnessed high student engagement and enthusiasm. External participation was also involved. Participants appreciated the on-the-spot product challenge, which pushed them to think creatively under pressure. The competition successfully bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application of AI in business.

Learning outcome-

- Development of Entrepreneurial Agility: Students developed the ability to think and act like entrepreneurs in dynamic situations. The on-the-spot product allocation required participants to quickly assess product potential, adapt to unfamiliar scenarios, and design innovative business ideas within limited time. This enhanced their entrepreneurial mindset and decision-making capabilities.
- Practical Understanding of AI in Business Applications: Participants gained hands-on exposure to the practical use of Artificial Intelligence in business contexts. Students learned how AI can be integrated into areas such as customer engagement, marketing strategies, demand forecasting, automation, and data-driven decision-making, moving beyond theoretical knowledge to real-world application.
- Enhancement of Problem-Solving and Analytical Skills: The competition enabled students to identify real-world market problems related to the assigned products and analyze them critically. By developing AI-based solutions, students improved their ability to evaluate challenges, interpret data, and propose logical, innovative, and feasible business solutions.
- Ability to Design AI-Driven Business Models: Students demonstrated improved competence in designing structured and scalable business models. They learned to clearly define value propositions, target customers, revenue streams, and competitive advantages while integrating AI as a core component of the business strategy.

Key Point:

- Crafting Powerful Resumes: Guidance on structuring resumes, highlighting achievements, and avoiding common mistakes.
- Showcasing Skills Effectively: Tips to articulate technical, managerial, and interpersonal skills to enhance employability.
- Landing Dream Jobs: Insights into tailoring resumes to specific job roles and industries for maximum impact.
- Professional Presentation: Importance of clarity, formatting, and precision in creating a professional first impression.

Conclusion:

The seminar on "CV Secrets for Career Growth" proved to be extremely valuable for students, equipping them with essential tools to create strong resumes. It boosted their confidence and helped them understand how to present their skills and achievements effectively to potential employers.

The event ended on an interactive note with a Q&A session, where students clarified their doubts directly with the expert. The Placement Cell, faculty coordinators, and student coordinators contributed to the success of this seminar, ensuring it was both informative and engaging.

Report on "Group Discussion Event"

Event Category: ACE Placement Cell

Topic: Group Discussion on "Artificial Intelligence: Job Displacement vs Job Evolution in the Corporate World"

Date: 17TH September, 2025

Platform: Offline

Faculty Coordinator: Ms. Dolly Sharma & Ms. Sakshi Singh

Objectives: -

Encourage Diverse Perspectives: Foster an environment where all participants feel comfortable sharing their viewpoints, ensuring a wide range of ideas and opinions are expressed on the topic.

Collaborative Problem-Solving: Work together as a group to analyse the issue at hand, identify potential solutions, and come to a consensus or develop a shared action plan based on the discussion.

Report:

On 17th September 2025, ACE, the placement cell of JIMS Kalkaji, conducted a Group Discussion (GD) event. A total of 25 participants took part in the GD, which was conducted in two rounds. The GD revolved around the topic "Artificial Intelligence: Job Displacement vs Job Evolution in the Corporate World."

The event was judged by Dr. Shivani Sharma, Dr. Jasleen Rana, and Dr. Surbhi Gosain. The participants engaged in a thought-provoking discussion, sharing varied insights on the influence of AI on different aspects of corporates, discussing whether it is a boon or a bane. A winner and a runner-up were announced following a thorough assessment that considered presentation, communication abilities, and topic relevancy.

Learning Outcomes:

- ❖ Participants gained a deeper understanding on the very relevant topic of impact of AI in corporate jobs.
- ❖ The event enhanced their debating and public speaking skills. It provided a platform to collaborate and engage in constructive discussions with peers.
- ❖ Students learned the importance of presenting well-structured arguments and thinking critically about real-world issues.
