Learning objectives-

JIMS Kalkaji organized the national human resource seminar titled, "AI in HR: Integration of People and Technology to Create Business Value" at JIMS Kalkaji Auditorium on 14th October 2023. The guests of honor of the event were Mr. Sandeep Girotra Executive Director & CHRO. DCM Shriram and Dr. Aquil Busrai CEO, Aquil Busrai Consulting, FMR Director (HR) IBM & SHELL. The speakers for the event were Dr. G.P. Rao Founder and Managing Partner GPR HR Consulting LLP, Mr. Saurabh Rai CEO of Arahast Technologies, Mr. Neeraj Narang Global HCM, Strategy Director & Apac Lead, Oracle, Ms. Archana Bhardwaj HR Leader and Mentor, Ms. Kuljeet Kaur Senior Manager, IOC, Mr. Manmohan Bhutani Country Head, Apolis India.

Report-

The inaugural session commenced with the welcome address by Dr. (Cdr) Satish Seth, Ex-Director General and Advisor to the Chairman JIMS. He emphasized the ethical use of AI and explained how Chat GPT can become beneficial in personalized learning, case study analysis, and business planning in higher education. Mr. Sandeep Girotra explained the technological evolution in the music industry from a turntable record player to cassettes, CDs, DVDs, MP3, and pen drives, and now to Spotify. He deliberated that nothing can replace social connection but at the same time, it is essential to be agile and accept technological change. Dr. Aquil Busrai emphasized maintaining the balance between technology and Human Connect. He explained how AI works silently and has changed lifestyles and reduced the operational costs of firms with the application of Predictive Attrition analysis. It is important to be well-versed with technological changes and learn to cope with the speed of change. Dr. Anuj Verma, Director JIMS Kalkaji shared his views that human connection cannot be replaced by any technology, but we can adapt technology for the betterment of society. Technology should be used wisely but Human Touch should not be lost.

Mr. GP RAO commenced the panel discussion with an emphasis on technological integration and human development. He emphasized the significance of AI in automating processes, analyzing vast datasets, and enabling machines to make decisions, ultimately revolutionizing various industries. Mr. Neeraj's Perspective explains how AI involves the artificial creation of intelligence within machines. He suggested that during interviews, paying attention to subtle cues like eye movements and hand gestures can provide valuable insights. These non-verbal cues can offer a deeper understanding of a candidate's suitability for a role. Saurabh Rai's insights shed light on the importance of predictive and descriptive models in the field of data analysis. He highlighted the need for accurate data parameters, such as salary and the nature of work, to ensure the correctness and reliability of these models. Saurabh emphasized that conducting numerous surveys is essential for conducting sentiment analysis effectively. This involves the aggregation of words and phrases from various sources, leading to a comprehensive understanding of sentiment. Miss Archana Bhardwaj highlights the topic of grievance handling within HR and contrasts it with certain hiring practices. She raised a significant concern about the emphasis placed on physical appearance during the hiring process. Archana pointed out that in some cases, candidates may be hired or not based on their looks rather than their qualifications, which can lead to biases in recruitment. However, she also emphasized that in the field of artificial intelligence (AI), these biases are often eliminated. The hiring process in AI relies solely on an individual's talents and qualifications relevant to the position they are applying for, ignoring irrelevant factors like appearance.

Learning outcomes

Mr. Manmohan Bhutani unequivocally asserted that Artificial Intelligence (AI) is a game changer. AI's potential is so significant that it can be considered a transformative force in today's world. Moreover, Mr. Bhutani highlighted the power of AI in identifying inflection points in advance. Predictive capability is a crucial aspect of AI, enabling businesses and organizations to anticipate critical turning points, make informed decisions, and stay ahead of the curve. Ms. Kuljeet acknowledged the game-changing potential of technology but also emphasized that human existence remains at the core of innovation, underscoring the need to strike a balance between technological advancements and human-centric values. She explained how Indian Oil Corporation has used sentiment analysis at its retail outlets to ensure customers' happiness. These valuable tips offer diverse perspectives on the integration of AI, ethics, technology, and human elements in our rapidly changing world.

Report of Seminar on “ First Aid and CPR ”

Event Category	: Seminar by NSS
Topic	: First Aid and CPR Seminar
Date	: 29 April 2024
Faculty Coordinator	: Dr. Preeti Singh & Mr. Kartik Dayal
Number of Student Volunteers	: 16
Number of Faculties attended	: 19

Objective

- A seminar on CPR and first aid is designed to provide participants with essential knowledge and skills to respond effectively to medical emergencies.
- The primary objective is to empower individuals within the college community to take immediate and appropriate action during critical situations, potentially saving lives and promoting a safer environment for everyone.

Report:

The student volunteers from Prayaas, the NSS and rotaract club of JIMS Kalkaji conducted a seminar on first aid in collaboration with Emmanuel Hospital Association, New Delhi. The seminar emphasized the immediate steps to take when encountering someone experiencing a heart attack, including recognizing the signs of cardiac distress, assessing the person's condition, and swiftly initiating CPR if needed. Students also gained knowledge on administering first aid, including how to stop bleeding effectively. The seminar covered the steps to assess and manage bleeding wounds, emphasizing the importance of applying pressure to the wound using a clean cloth or bandage to control bleeding.

Learning Outcome:

The learning outcome of the first aid seminar was twofold: students acquired essential skills in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), enabling them to respond promptly and effectively to heart attack emergencies, while also gaining proficiency in administering first aid to control bleeding and stabilize injured individuals.

XIXth

International Conference

Transformation 2024: Integration of People,
Technology and the Environment to Build
Sustainable Business Organisations"

16th and 17th Feb 2024

XIXth International Conference

Conference Overview

Jagannath International Management School(JIMS), Kalkaji, New Delhi is organizing its XIXth International Conference in collaboration with the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PHDCCI), The Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung (KAS), Germany and Association of Management Development Institutions in South Asia (AMDISA) on 16th and 17th Feb 2024 at the LakshmiPat Singhania Auditorium, PHD House, New Delhi - 110016. The Conference will be held in physical mode.

The year 2024 marks a pivotal moment in the evolution of business paradigms. "Transformation 2024: Integration of People, Technology, and the Environment to Build Sustainable Business Organizations" encapsulates a forward-looking vision that recognizes the interdependence of humanity, technology, and the environment in the pursuit of sustainable prosperity. First and foremost, this transformation hinges on the recognition that people are not merely human resources but the beating heart of any organization. Companies that prioritize the well-being, growth, and empowerment of their employees foster a culture of innovation and responsibility. When individuals feel valued and aligned with a company's sustainability goals, they become catalysts for change. Inclusivity, diversity, and ethical leadership are not just buzzwords; they are the cornerstones of organizations that thrive in the 21st century.

Technology, the second pillar of this transformation, stands as both an enabler and a driving force. Embracing cutting-edge technologies such as artificial intelligence, IoT, and blockchain can revolutionize how businesses operate. AI-driven analytics can optimize resource allocation, minimize waste, and enhance supply chain efficiency. Renewable energy systems and smart infrastructure can reduce carbon footprints. Meanwhile, blockchain technology can enhance transparency and traceability, enabling consumers to make informed choices about the products they purchase. By harnessing the potential of technology, businesses not only enhance their competitive edge but also contribute to a greener, more sustainable world.

The third dimension, the environment, is our shared responsibility and the cornerstone of long-term business viability. Companies must do transition from resource-intensive models to ones that prioritize environmental stewardship. This entails reducing carbon emissions, adopting circular economy practices, and conserving natural resources. Sustainable sourcing and eco-friendly packaging are not just trends but ethical imperatives in this era.

In conclusion, "Transformation 2024: Integration of People, Technology, and the Environment to Build Sustainable Business Organizations" represents a paradigm shift away from profit-centric models toward holistic, triple-bottom-line sustainability. By harmonizing the strengths of people, technology, and environmental consciousness, businesses can secure a prosperous and sustainable future in 2024 and beyond. This transformation is not merely a choice but an imperative for any organization aspiring to thrive in an increasingly complex and interconnected world.

Conference Objectives

The Conference aims to achieve the following objectives:

- Provide a platform to share knowledge and understanding of the role of people and technology to create business growth and sustainability.
- Create awareness of the imperative need to develop on Organisational culture where sustainability is ingrained in the values, behaviour and decision – making processes of the organisation.
- Disseminate, share and stimulate research for development of sustainability models relating to business, society and the environment.

Report-

Jagannath International Management School conducted its XIXth International Conference at the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry on 16 th and 17 th , focusing on the theme 'Transformation 2024: Incorporating People, Technology, and the Environment for Building Sustainable Business Organizations.' The inaugural session featured five guests, commencing with a welcome address by Dr. Satish Seth, advisor to the Chairman JIMS Kalkaji, followed by Dr. Amit Gupta, Chairman JIMS, delivering an interactive speech. Mr. Furqan Warsi, partner at Ernst & Young and the guest of honor, stressed the importance of embracing sustainable development practices in organizations for long- term growth. Chief guest Mr. Atul Sobti, Director General SCOPE and Former CMD of BHEL, underscored the significance of integrating people, technology, and the environment in today's corporate landscape. Dr. Anuj Verma, Director of JIMS Kalkaji, proposed the vote of thanks. All speakers emphasized how human resources, technology, and AI can synergize to foster sustainable growth in business organizations, highlighting the potential of AI and technology to optimize sustainable business practices.

Following the inaugural session, a Technical Session featuring a Panel discussion ensued. Mr. Ankit Jhamb, Chief Learning Officer at Grant Thornton Bharat, chaired the discussion. The panel comprised three distinguished members from reputable organizations: Mr. Neeraj Narang, Strategy Director & APAL Lead at Oracle; Mr. Abhay Singh, Chief Business Officer at MPC Cloud Consulting Pvt Ltd; and Mr. Amitjot Singh, Senior Manager at EY's global Climate Change and Sustainability Services (CCSS).

The second day of the conference commenced with a Technical Session centered on the theme “Integration of People and Technology for Sustainable Business Organizations,” featuring discussions from representatives of diverse organizations highlighting how people and technology drive transformation. Subsequently, another technical session focused on the topic “Role of Entrepreneurship, Education, and Technology in Achieving Sustainable Development,” emphasizing the significance of education and innovation in sustainable development efforts. The final session delved into “Sustainability Trends and Practices in Global Business,” exploring how large corporations are integrating sustainable practices into their operations.

Learning outcomes

The panel discussion proved highly insightful, with panelists sharing how their respective organizations have consistently embraced sustainable practices and offering suggestions for broader adoption across industries. Overall, the first day of the conference provided a learning experience for the students and encouraged them to ponder upon the theme. Additionally, a Research Paper Competition was conducted in an online format, attracting presenters nationwide who shared their findings across various tracks. This session proved highly informative, offering valuable insights on a range of topics.

Entrepreneurship Cell & Institution Innovation Council of JIMS, Kalkaji believes that entrepreneurship is the key to India's development. To fulfill this vision, we organized a WORKSHOP ON "ANGEL INVESTING" with the objective of fostering entrepreneurship skills among students on Sep 23, 2023.

Report-

At the event, Dr. VK Arora shared his precious insights into the importance of making investments in a startup. How we can become Angel Investor, sir believe that the startup is the future of India in the upcoming year and the job will be at declining stage and people will do their own start-up. Sir believes that we should all invest in startups to multiply our investment or to earn money, He told us what problems startups are facing, what available options for funding who are angel investors, he said that the main problem that a startup faces is funding or money to run that startup, so they need investment or money to run that startup there are various options for raising funds some of them are self-arranged, induced investment, bank loans, private equity, and Angel investment. Angel investors are those who are successful entrepreneurs who are actively involved in investing, and they are committed to dedicating their time and staying engaged with the venture they support. The Angel investor provides funding to startups in the early stages of development ventures, to diversify risk he invests in multiple startups he also has great knowledge of the market provides mentorship and guidance to startups, and often has a long-term perspective. Angel investing can be a rewarding way to support innovation and entrepreneurship, but it also requires careful consideration education, and willingness to take a calculated risk.

Learning outcomes

Students took important lessons about being an excellent entrepreneur from this activity. First, who are Angel investors, what they can give to startups, what things we want to see while investing in a startup, the procedure of how a startup raises funds, and how we can become an investor. The speech was concluded with the wise saying "Make more investment as it matters". The session was a success and the students found it very interactive and knowledgeable for them. With this thought in mind, The Entrepreneurship Cell & Institution Innovation Council of Jagannath International Management School conducted a workshop on 'BUSINESS CANVAS MODEL'.

Report-

At the event, Mr. HP SINGH shared his precious insights into the importance of doing business in our lives. How we can take initiative to do business, sir believe that in business we can explore many things rather than do the job. Sir believes that we should all think about doing business, our long-term motive should be doing that and he explained how we can start a business, He told us what problems we can face and gave a solution as well, First he said that we all have an idea but we have to implement it is first and the foremost thing, the second problem he addressed was that we need funds or money to start a business then he gave a solution he said that we all are eligible to take loans from the government through MSME and last is knowledge. He gave real-life examples of many businesses like Subway, Zara Iijjat papad, Delhi chaat Wala, etc. who faced many difficulties in starting a business but are earning crores of Rs then he tells us about the Business Model Canvas Which is a powerful tool for planning and visualizing a business idea. It consists of Nine key building blocks Customer Segmentation, value proposition, channels, customer relationship, revenue streams, key resources, key activities, key partnership, and cost structure Lastly, he told us how to use the Canvas Model in Business.

Learning outcomes

Students took important lessons about being an excellent entrepreneur from this activity. First, discuss and research what kind of business we can do, then take the initiative to set up, then find the solution to problems we can face, and lastly apply the business canvas model to successfully run the business. The speech was concluded with the wise saying "Turning Ideas into Reality". The session was a success and the students found it very interactive and knowledgeable for them.

- To emphasize the significance of eco-friendly technologies to make the world a better living space

Report-

Survival of Start-ups in India Using Lean Methods is the workshop conducted by JIMS Kalkaji in collaboration with Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR). The inaugural session started with a welcome speech followed by lamp lighting ceremony by the dignitaries on the stage. Followed by this our key note speakers for the first half of the day were welcomed with the JIMS Green Initiative as a mark of honor and gratitude by the Director, Dr. Anuj Verma.

Thereafter a panel discussion round started with the eminent speakers who shared their success stories as well as the challenges being face by them while setting up and enduring their start-ups. Our first guest speaker of the day was Mr. Sameer Panda (Founder-TJ Tyres). He spoke in length about the role of innovation and technology in making any startup successful as well as the relevance of eco-friendly technologies to make the world a better living space. Our second keynote speaker of the day was Mr. Aseem Gupta (Founder- Sahy Electric). First, he talked about EV charge technology and how it can be used to create a cheaper and cleaner charging option. He also emphasized on creating a more sustainable environment through better use of resources and minimizing wastage. He also shared some insightful experiences with the audience and the struggles their venture had to face in the form of lack of sufficient funding and other documentation hurdles while raising finance. The third keynote speaker for the session was Mr. Gulshan Sharma (Founder of Falhari). Mr. Gulshan shared in detail about the customizable fruit packets, salads to juices, smoothies and yoghurts and the nutritional value associated with the consumption of fruits and salads at the right time during the day. He also shared some interesting stories from the time their start-up was in conception stage.

Learning outcomes

The faculties presented and shared the findings of their funded empirical project related to the survival of the start-ups in India granted by ICSSR with the entire audience. The day was ended on a vibrant and promising note with a valedictory session by Director, Dr. Anuj Verma, JIMS with a vote of thanks to all the panelists and organizers of the workshop. The students who were part of the organizing team were also distributed with certificates as a gesture of appreciation. Last, but not the least the event concluded with a group photo. Overall, the entire workshop was a successful pursuit for the scholars, students and those who intend to set-up Start-up.

Learning Objectives:

1. To raise awareness about Digital Vision Syndrome (DVS) and its causes.
2. To educate individuals about DVS symptoms and consequences.

Report:

On March 6th, Wednesday, the auditorium of JIMS Kalkaji hosted an insightful workshop focused on addressing the challenges posed by Digital Vision Syndrome (DVS). The primary objective of the workshop was to elevate awareness surrounding DVS and furnish attendees with practical strategies to alleviate its adverse effects, which stem from prolonged utilization of digital devices. Throughout the event, participants were engaged in various activities designed to enhance their understanding of DVS and empower them with actionable solutions. Expert presentations delved into the intricacies of DVS, elucidating its causes, symptoms, and potential long-term consequences on eye health. These informative sessions equipped participants with a holistic comprehension of the syndrome.

Learning Outcome:

1. Improved work environment setups to minimize eye strain and discomfort.
2. Greater adherence to regular eye care check-ups among participants.

Learning Objectives:

1. To guide and assist researchers and academicians, in understanding the intricacies of publishing research papers in reputed and high-impact journals
2. To educate and explain the criteria that researchers should consider while selecting a journal.

Report:

JIMS Kalkaji organized an enlightening workshop on the topic "How to Publish in High-Impact Journals" on 20th April 2024. The workshop was conducted by Dr. Shruti Trayambak and Ms. Aastha Behl, both esteemed experts in the field of academic publishing.

The primary objective of the workshop was to guide and assist researchers and academicians, in understanding the intricacies of publishing research papers in reputed and high-impact journals. The event aimed to bridge the gap between quality research and its effective dissemination, emphasizing the importance of contributing valuable insights to the academic community.

Dr. Shruti Trayambak commenced the workshop by highlighting the significance of choosing the right journal for publication. She discussed the criteria that researchers should consider while selecting a journal, including the journal's scope, impact factor, readership, and publication ethics. Dr. Trayambak also provided valuable insights into the peer-review process, emphasizing its role in maintaining the quality and credibility of published research.

Following Dr. Trayambak's session, Ms. Aastha Behl delved into the technical aspects of preparing and structuring a research paper for submission to high-impact journals. She elaborated on the essential components of a research paper, such as the abstract, introduction, methodology, results, discussion, and conclusion. Ms. Behl shared practical tips and strategies for writing effectively, ensuring clarity, coherence, and adherence to the journal's guidelines.

Throughout the workshop, participants were encouraged to actively engage with the speakers, asking questions, sharing their experiences, and seeking guidance on specific challenges they face in the publication process. The interactive nature of the workshop facilitated a dynamic exchange of ideas and fostered a collaborative learning environment.

Learning Outcome:

In conclusion, the workshop organized by JIMS Kalkaji proved to be a valuable learning experience for all attendees. Dr. Shruti Traymbak and Ms. Aastha Behl's expertise and guidance equipped participants with the knowledge and tools necessary to navigate the complex landscape of academic publishing successfully. By empowering researchers and academicians with the skills to publish in high-impact journals, JIMS Kalkaji continues to champion excellence in research and scholarship.
