Research Methodology

MODULE 1: DESK RESEARCH

This involved secondary research to compile a list of BBA institutes from internet sources, magazines, and prior surveys. Industry experts also contributed to refining the list. Any college not initially included could be added if mentioned by respondents.

MODULE 2: FACTUAL DATA COLLECTION

Over 1,100 BBA institutes received a detailed questionnaire, followed up through various channels. About 150 institutes participated, providing data on general information, courses, infrastructure, industry interface, placements, exchange programs, faculty research, and more.

MODULE 3: PERCEPTUAL SURVEY

A structured questionnaire was administered to HR professionals, faculty, parents, alumni, current students, and aspiring students across 16 cities, covering parameters like academic excellence, faculty, infrastructure, industry interaction, placement, personality development, and overall brand value.

ANALYSIS

The final rankings were derived using a robust process, including ratings on key parameters, calculating weights through a regression model, and combining industry and feedback scores. Only colleges participating in the factual survey were ranked, while those with good perceptual scores but lacking factual data were listed alphabetically. Newer institutes were included in an "Emerging Institutes" list.

Dear Alumni,

Greetings!

A survey is being conducted on the design of the curriculum prepared by GGSIPU for the BBA & B.COM(H) programmes.

The survey is conducted for understanding the adequacy of the course curriculum in upskilling the students to present day standards.

You are requested to provide your valuable response. The link to the survey is as follows:

XIX th
International Conference

Transformation 2024: Integration of People, Technology and the Environment to Build Sustainable Business Organisations"
16th and 17th Feb 2024

XIX th
International Conference

Conference Overview

Jagannath International Management School(JIMS), Kalkaji, New Delhi is organizing its XIXth International Conference in collaboration with the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PHDCCI), The Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung (KAS), Germany and Association of Management Development Institutions in South Asia (AMDISA) on 16th and 17th Feb 2024 at the Lakshmipat Singhania Auditorium, PHD House, New Delhi - 110016. The Conference will be held in physical mode.

The year 2024 marks a pivotal moment in the evolution of business paradigms. "Transformation 2024: Integration of People, Technology, and the Environment to Build Sustainable Business Organizations" encapsulates a forward-looking vision that recognizes the interdependence of humanity, technology, and the environment in the pursuit of sustainable prosperity. First and foremost, this transformation hinges on the recognition that people are not merely human resources but the beating heart of any organization. Companies that prioritize the well-being, growth, and empowerment of their employees foster a culture of innovation and responsibility. When individuals feel valued and aligned with a company's sustainability goals, they become catalysts for change. Inclusivity, diversity, and ethical leadership are not just buzzwords; they are the cornerstones of organizations that thrive in the 21st century.

Technology, the second pillar of this transformation, stands as both an enabler and a driving force. Embracing cutting-edge technologies such as artificial intelligence, IoT, and blockchain can revolutionize how businesses operate. AI-driven analytics can optimize resource allocation, minimize waste, and enhance supply chain efficiency. Renewable energy systems and smart infrastructure can reduce carbon footprints. Meanwhile, blockchain technology can enhance transparency and traceability, enabling consumers to make informed choices about the products they purchase. By harnessing the potential of technology, businesses not only enhance their competitive edge but also contribute to a greener, more sustainable world.

The third dimension, the environment, is our shared responsibility and the cornerstone of long-term business viability. Companies must do transition from resource-intensive models to ones that prioritize environmental stewardship. This entails reducing carbon emissions, adopting circular economy practices, and conserving natural resources. Sustainable sourcing and eco-friendly packaging are not just trends but ethical imperatives in this era.

In conclusion, "Transformation 2024: Integration of People, Technology, and the Environment to Build Sustainable Business Organizations" represents a paradigm shift away from profit-centric models toward holistic, triple-bottom-line sustainability. By harmonizing the strengths of people, technology, and environmental consciousness, businesses can secure a prosperous and sustainable future in 2024 and beyond. This transformation is not merely a choice but an imperative for any organization aspiring to thrive in an increasingly complex and interconnected world.

Conference Objectives

The Conference aims to achieve the following objectives:
• Provide a platform to share knowledge and understanding of the role of people and technology to create business growth and sustainability.

About AMDISA

Association of Management Development Institutions in South Asia (AMDISA) is a network of Management Education and Management Development Institutions in South Asia. It has 308 members from the SAARC region. AMDISA launched the global benchmark quality assurance and accreditation system for Business Schools – SAQS. SAQS is the quality assurance scheme run by AMDISA as a service to the management education profession worldwide. SAQS emerged in an EFMD – AMDISA cooperation through a European Union funded Asia - Link project in 2003-04 and is inspired by EFMD's EQUIS criteria guidelines. Recently the Association of Indian Universities (AIU) has accepted AMDISA's Quality Assurance Program - SAQS at par with NBA accreditation for according equivalence to the two-year full time PGDM with MBA degree of Indian Universities.

Report-

Jagannath International Management School conducted its XIXth International Conference at the PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry on 16 th and 17 th , focusing on the theme 'Transformation 2024: Incorporating People, Technology, and the Environment for Building Sustainable Business Organizations.' The inaugural session featured five guests, commencing with a welcome address by Dr. Satish Seth, advisor to the Chairman JIMS Kalkaji, followed by Dr. Amit Gupta, Chairman JIMS, delivering an interactive speech. Mr. Furqan Warsi, partner at Ernst & Young and the guest of honor, stressed the importance of embracing sustainable development practices in organizations for long- term growth. Chief guest Mr. Atul Sobti, Director General SCOPE and Former CMD of BHEL, underscored the significance of integrating people, technology, and the environment in today's corporate landscape. Dr. Anuj Verma, Director of JIMS Kalkaji, proposed the vote of thanks. All speakers emphasized how human resources, technology, and AI can synergize to foster sustainable growth in business organizations, highlighting the potential of AI and technology to optimize sustainable business practices.

Following the inaugural session, a Technical Session featuring a Panel discussion ensued. Mr. Ankit Jhamb, Chief Learning Officer at Grant Thornton Bharat, chaired the discussion. The panel comprisedthree distinguished members from reputable organizations: Mr. Neeraj Narang, Strategy Director & APAL Lead at Oracle; Mr. Abhay Singh, Chief Business Officer at MPC Cloud Consulting Pvt Ltd; and Mr. Amitjot Singh, Senior Manager at EY's global Climate Change and Sustainability Services (CCSS).

The second day of the conference commenced with a Technical Session centered on the theme "Integration of People and Technology for Sustainable Business Organizations," featuring discussions from representatives of diverse organizations highlighting how people and technology drive transformation. Subsequently, another technical session focused on the topic "Role of Entrepreneurship, Education, and Technology in Achieving Sustainable Development," emphasizing the significance of education and innovation in sustainable development efforts. The final session delved into "Sustainability Trends and Practices in Global Business," exploring how large corporations are integrating sustainable practices into their operations.

Learning outcomes

The panel discussion proved highly insightful, with panelists sharing how their respective organizations have consistently embraced sustainable practices and offering suggestions for broader adoption across industries. Overall, the first day of the conference provided a learning experience for the students and encouraged them to ponder upon the theme. Additionally, a Research Paper Competition was conducted in an online format, attracting presenters nationwide who shared their findings across various tracks. This session proved highly informative, offering valuable insights on a range of topics.

Learning Objectives:

1. To guide and assist researchers and academicians, in understanding the intricacies of publishing research papers in reputed and high-impact journals
2. To educate and explain the criteria that researchers should consider while selecting a journal.

Report:

JIMS Kalkaji organized an enlightening workshop on the topic "How to Publish in High-Impact Journals" on 20th April 2024. The workshop was conducted by Dr. Shruti Traymbak and Ms. Aastha Behl, both esteemed experts in the field of academic publishing.

The primary objective of the workshop was to guide and assist researchers and academicians, in understanding the intricacies of publishing research papers in reputed and high-impact journals. The event aimed to bridge the gap between quality research and its effective dissemination, emphasizing the importance of contributing valuable insights to the academic community.

Dr. Shruti Traymbak commenced the workshop by highlighting the significance of choosing the right journal for publication. She discussed the criteria that researchers should consider while selecting a journal, including the journal's scope, impact factor, readership, and publication ethics. Dr.Traymbak also provided valuable insights into the peer-review process, emphasizing its role in maintaining the quality and credibility of published research.

Following Dr.Traymbak's session, Ms. Aastha Behl delved into the technical aspects of preparing and structuring a research paper for submission to high-impact journals. She elaborated on the essential components of a research paper, such as the abstract, introduction, methodology, results, discussion, and conclusion. Ms. Behl shared practical tips and strategies for writing effectively, ensuring clarity, coherence, and adherence to the journal's guidelines.

Throughout the workshop, participants were encouraged to actively engage with the speakers, asking questions, sharing their experiences, and seeking guidance on specific challenges they face in the publication process. The interactive nature of the workshop facilitated a dynamic exchange of ideas and fostered a collaborative learning environment.

Report-

The inaugural session commenced with the welcome address by Dr. (Cdr) Satish Seth, Ex-Director General and Advisor to the Chairman JIMS. He emphasized the ethical use of AI and explained how Chat GPT can become beneficial in personalized learning, case study analysis, and business planning in higher education. Mr. Sandeep Girotra explained the technological evolution in the music industry from a turntable record player to cassettes, CDs, DVDs, MP3, and pen drives, and now to Spotify. He deliberated that nothing can replace social connection but at the same time, it is essential to be agile and accept technological change. Dr Aquil Busrai emphasized maintaining the balance between technology and Human Connect. He explained how AI works silently and has changed lifestyles and reduced the operational costs of firms with the application of Predictive Attrition analysis. It is important to be well-versed with technological changes and learn to cope with the speed of change. Dr. Anuj Verma, Director JIMS Kalkaji shared his views that human connection cannot be replaced by any technology, but we can adapt technology for the betterment of society. Technology should be used wisely but Human Touch should not be lost.

25 years of academic leadership

Mr. GP RAO commenced the panel discussion with an emphasis on technological integration and human development. He emphasized the significance of AI in automating processes, analyzing vast datasets, and enabling machines to make decisions, ultimately revolutionizing various industries. Mr. Neeraj's Perspective explains how AI involves the artificial creation of intelligence within machines. He suggested that during interviews, paying attention to subtle cues like eye movements and hand gestures can provide valuable insights. These non-verbal cues can offer a deeper understanding of a candidate's suitability for a role. Saurabh Rai's insights shed light on the importance of predictive and descriptive models in the field of data analysis. He highlighted the need for accurate data parameters, such as salary and the nature of work, to ensure the correctness and reliability of these models. Saurabh emphasized that conducting numerous surveys is essential for conducting sentiment analysis effectively. This involves the aggregation of words and phrases from various sources, leading to a comprehensive understanding of sentiment. Miss Archana Bhardwaj highlights the topic of grievance handling within HR and contrasts it with certain hiring practices. She raised a significant concern about the emphasis placed on physical appearance during the hiring process. Archana pointed out that in some cases, candidates may be hired or not based on their looks rather than their qualifications, which can lead to biases in recruitment. However, she also emphasized that in the field of artificial intelligence (AI), these biases are often eliminated. The hiring process in AI relies solely on an individual's talents and qualifications relevant to the position they are applying for, ignoring irrelevant factors like appearance.

Learning outcomes

Mr. Manmohan Bhutani unequivocally asserted that Artificial Intelligence (AI) is a game changer. AI's potential is so significant that it can be considered a transformative force in today's world. Moreover, Mr. Bhutani highlighted the power of AI in identifying inflection points in advance. Predictive capability is a crucial aspect of AI, enabling businesses and organizations to anticipate critical turning points, make informed decisions, and stay ahead of the curve. Ms. Kuljeet acknowledged the game-changing potential of technology but also emphasized that human existence remains at the core of innovation, underscoring the need to strike a balance between technological advancements and human-centric values. She explained how Indian Oil Corporation has used sentiment analysis at its retail outlets to ensure customers' happiness. These valuable tips offer diverse perspectives on the integration of AI, ethics, technology, and human elements in our rapidly changing world.
